KEYNOTE SPEAKER: Susan MacDonald

You've probably experienced this: frustration builds, teacher turnover rises, staff meetings become stagnant, and negativity creeps into the school culture. The solution? Explore new ways to inspire and motivate teachers to engage in their own professional growth.

During this powerful presentation, Susan will give you an exclusive peak into her newest book launching this fall - Inspiring Professional Growth, and teach you innovative ways to:

- Be deliberate and intentional in establishing a growth culture
- Use strength-based strategies to support ongoing professional growth
- Build collaboration among even the most challenging individuals and teams
- Create impactful and achievable goals to facilitate professional accountability and sustainable change

You will leave Susan's session energized with new strategies, easy to use tips, reflective exercises and resources to start making the changes necessary to develop programs where children and teachers grow and develop!
